Mark Vandertoorn has over 20 years of experience assisting clients with forensic accounting, economic damages issues, business valuations, and financial due diligence. He is an expert in the quantification of loss, forensic accounting, business valuations, and evaluating financial disclosures of investment funds and companies. His experience includes quantifying losses and business valuation in commercial disputes, contract breaches, family law, and purchase and sale agreement disputes.

Mark previously worked for 12 years in the hedge fund and private equity sector as an investment manager and accountant in the Netherlands and Netherlands Antilles. While living in the Netherlands, he gained an in-depth knowledge of the regulatory environment of hedge funds and similar private placement funds.
